

Looking through forces spectacles

Where are the forces?

Here are some sketches to consider as if you are looking through forces spectacles. You might use small arrows to show where you think the forces are in each sketch. Here are some clues:

- i) Each case is an example of equilibrium - all the forces balance.
- ii) focus on one object at a time. Ask yourself - which forces are acting on this object?

