

modelling situations to predict motion from forces speed relates distance to time two founding principles

a resultant force causes a change in motion no resultant force results in a constant velocity building and analysing the model identifying a PoV

calculations of speed

build and apply both models in two steps

add forces to calculate resultant

check resultant
force: zero or not?

qualitative
prediction of
motion